Re: Jeep V8 4.7 NSG573

Dear Alan,

I have been meaning to write for a while, but as we have just had over a year with the AG/SGi autogas system fitted to the V8 Jeep, I thought it appropriate to mention how pleased we are with it, and the service you have given us. Basically, the kit works without any inconvenience, you simply fill the tank and use the vehicle as you would a normal petrol car. Having had a kit on another Jeep that had some reliability problems before, I am very pleased to report that the AG LPG system is without fault, and operates smoothly and efficiently.

As for the service I have received from yourself, you listened to my requirements, and the frustration I had regarding the reliability of my previous kit, and the range of the car before re-fuelling. You advised us correctly to fit the largest tank possible, and the better quality AG system, which you fitted with utmost care and precision.

I have no hesitation in recommending both Alan as a very knowledgeable and approachable technician, and his recommended systems for LPG conversion. Most importantly we are running the car we require for much less money, and using a reliable autogas kit and good service support.

Please do e-mail if you require any further information
